Refugee Family Support Category Tier Two Sponsor Registration Form

for residence in New Zealand

Who should use this form?

This form is to be used by Refugee Family Support Category tier two sponsors who were granted residence as:

- a refugee or protected person
- an Afghan interpreter
- the partner or dependent child of an Afghan interpreter who accompanied them to New Zealand.

Afghan interpreters are those who worked with the New Zealand Defence Force, the New Zealand Police or the New Zealand Special Air Service (SAS) in Afghanistan and were granted a residence class visa by the Minister of Immigration as an exception to instructions under section 72(3) of the Immigration Act 2009.

If you are sponsoring under tier one, you must complete a Refugee Family Support Category Tier One Sponsor Registration Form (INZ 1094).

Information for Refugee Family Support Category sponsors

What is the Refugee Family Support Category?

The Refugee Family Support Category allows some people who were granted residence as refugees or Afghan interpreters (or the partner or dependent child of an Afghan interpreter who accompanied them to New Zealand) to sponsor a family member and that family member's partner and dependent children for residence in New Zealand.

How does the Refugee Family Support Category work?

There is a two-tier registration system with priority given to tier one sponsors who meet a high threshold of need. The process for selection is:

1. Registrations from tier one sponsors are given first access to the 300 places available per year. They are put in a queue.
2. Registrations are selected from the tier one queue until the 300 places are filled.
3. If there are more registrations in the queue than places available, there will be no more selections from the queue until places are available in the next annual period.
4. If there are fewer registrations in the queue than places available, Immigration New Zealand (INZ) will call for registrations from tier two sponsors. The tier two registrations are put into a queue.
5. If a registration is selected from the tier one or tier two queues, INZ will check if the sponsor appears to meet the registration requirements.
6. If the registration appears to meet the requirements, the family members included in the registration will be invited to apply for residence.

Bringing your family to New Zealand under the Refugee Family Support Category is a three-step process.

Step one – you register as a tier one sponsor or tier two sponsor by completing this registration form and paying a fee. The registration form contains the names of the family members that you want to bring to New Zealand.

Step two – we select your registration from the tier one or two queue and check your eligibility.

Step three – If you are eligible, your nominated family members apply for residence.

Who can be a tier one sponsor?

To be a tier one sponsor under the Refugee Family Support Category, you must:

- be in New Zealand, and
- be a New Zealand citizen, or the holder of a current residence class visa, and
- have been granted residence in New Zealand on the basis of your status as a refugee or as an Afghan interpreter (or the partner/dependent child of an Afghan interpreter who accompanied them to New Zealand), and
- be aged 18 years or over, and
- either have no 'immediate family' living lawfully and permanently in New Zealand, or be the 'sole carer' of a 'dependent relative(s)' in New Zealand and have no other 'immediate family' living lawfully and permanently in New Zealand, and
- have no other 'family member' eligible to be sponsored for residence under any other residence category, and
- have not been a successful sponsor under the Refugee Family Support Category (or Refugee Family Quota) before, and
- be an 'acceptable sponsor' for residence.

Tier one sponsors may register to sponsor any one of the following family members:

- parent, or
- grandparent, or
- grandchild, or
- uncle, or
- aunt, or
- nephew, or
- niece, or
- adult sibling, or
- adult child,

and that person's partner and/or dependent children.

That family member must not be eligible for residence under any other category of residence instructions (eg Skilled Migrant Category).

Who can be a tier two sponsor?

To be a tier two sponsor under the Refugee Family Support Category, you must:

- be in New Zealand, and
- be a New Zealand citizen, or the holder of a current residence class visa, and
- have been granted residence in New Zealand on the basis of your status as a refugee or as an Afghan interpreter (or the partner/dependent child of an Afghan interpreter who accompanied them to New Zealand), and
- be aged 18 years or over, and
- have no other 'family member' eligible to be sponsored for residence under any other residence category, and
- have not been a successful sponsor under the Refugee Family Support Category (or Refugee Family Quota) Instructions before, and
- have been a New Zealand citizen, or the holder of a current residence class visa, for at least three years immediately preceding the date your registration is lodged, and
- have spent at least 184 days in New Zealand in each of those three years, and
- be an 'acceptable sponsor' for residence.

Tier two sponsors may register to sponsor any one of the following family members:

- parent, or
- adult sibling, or
- adult child, or
- grandparent (if that grandparent is the sponsor's legal guardian);

and that person's partner and/or dependent children.

That family member must not be eligible for residence under any other category of residence instructions (eg Skilled Migrant Category).

Definitions

The principal applicant is the person who is declared to be the principal applicant on the residence application form and when the application is assessed, they will be assessed against the Residence Instructions criteria.

Immediate family, in relation to a sponsor, means your partner, parent, or non-dependent child.

Dependent children are children who are single and:

- aged 17 years or younger, or
- aged 18 to 20 with no children of their own, or
- aged 21 to 24, with no children of their own, and totally or substantially reliant on you or your partner for financial support, whether or not they are living with you.

Sole carer means that you have the primary responsibility for the day-to-day care of a 'dependent relative' or relatives in New Zealand, on an ongoing basis. Evidence that you are a sole carer includes, but is not limited to:

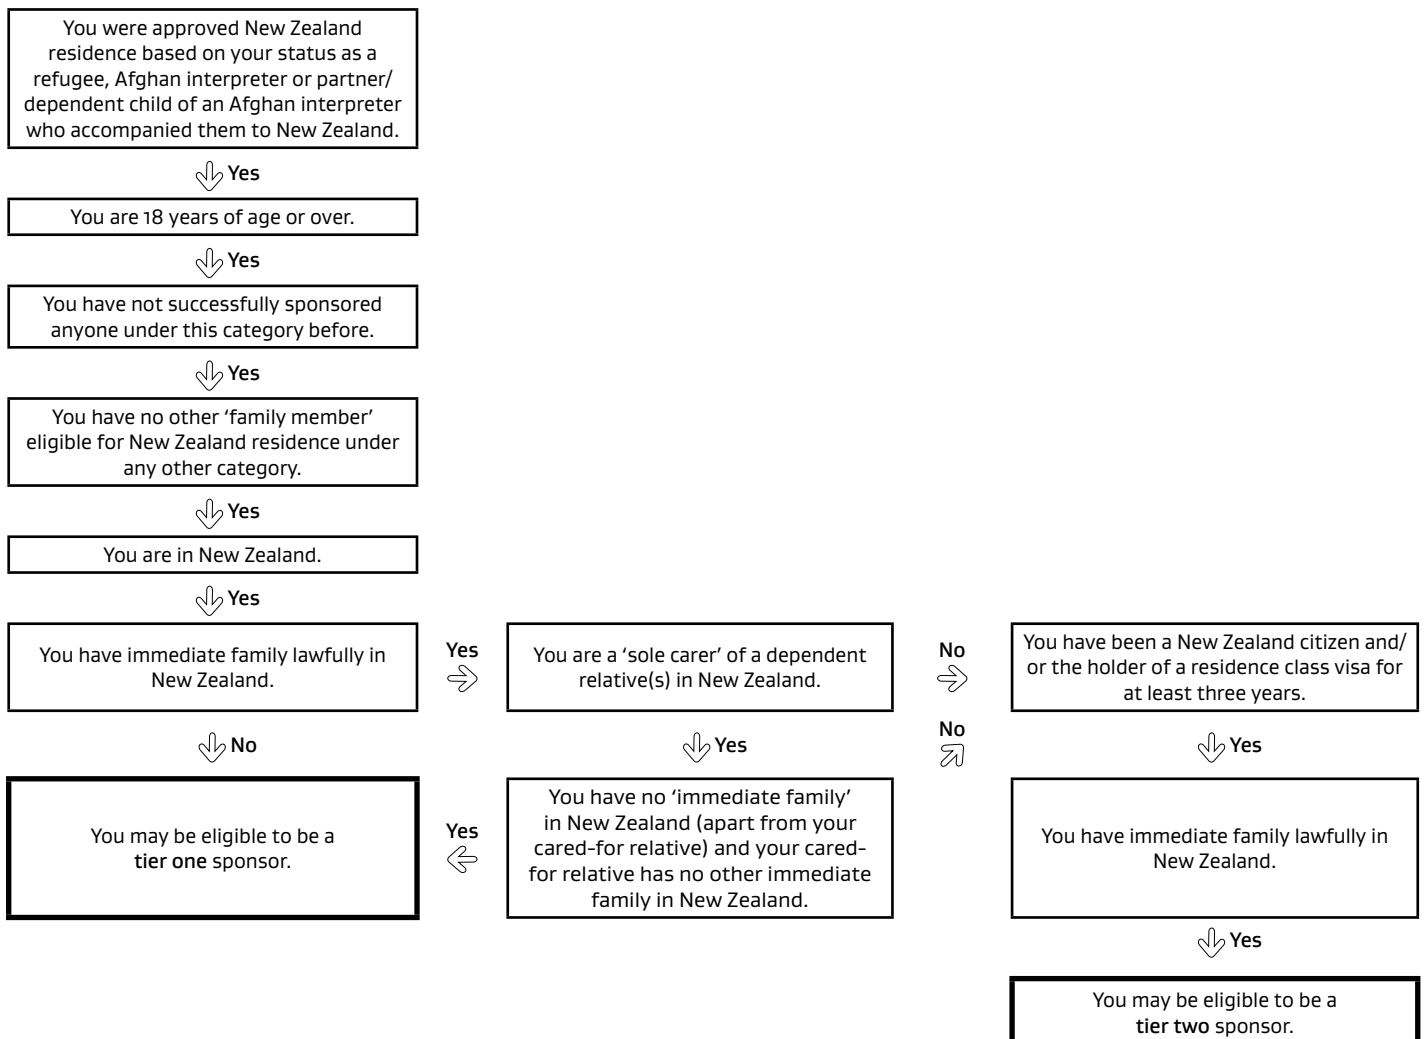

- evidence of Accident Compensation Corporation (ACC) payments made to you (where you are considered by ACC to be a provider of home help to a sick or injured relative or relatives),
- evidence from a district health board, general practitioner or other health agency which specifies you as a carer of a dependent relative or relatives,
- evidence from Work and Income that the dependent relative or relatives are on an invalid's benefit,
- any other evidence that the dependent relative or relatives are totally or substantially reliant on you for financial support whether they are living with you or not (where the dependent relative(s) are 17 years of age or younger).

Note: additional evidence may be requested.

Family member or dependent relative can be your partner, parent, child, grandparent, grandchild, uncle, aunt, nephew, niece, or adult sibling.

A grandparent is considered to be your legal guardian if your parents died before you attained the age of 20 years and your grandparent had custody and the right to control your upbringing before you attained the age of 20 years.

Information for tier one and tier two sponsors

How do my family members qualify for residence under the Refugee Family Support Category?

They will only qualify for residence under the Refugee Family Support Category if:

- your registration is selected from the tier one or tier two queues; and
- they are not eligible for residence in New Zealand under any other Residence Instructions; and
- Immigration New Zealand can confirm the relationship between you and your sponsored family members; and
- they meet health and character requirements; and
- they lodge their residence application within 12 months of Immigration New Zealand advising that the registration has been selected.

If they are in New Zealand, your family members must be lawfully in New Zealand to lodge an application under the Refugee Family Support Category.

How do I register as a sponsor?

To register as a sponsor under tier two, complete a Refugee Family Support Category Tier Two Sponsor Registration Form (INZ 1192) and send it, along with the registration fee, and other documents required, to:

Immigration New Zealand
PO Box 276118
Manukau City
Auckland 2241

See our Fees Guide (INZ 1028) or our website www.immigration.govt.nz/fees for more information about current fees and payment methods, or for more information on where to submit a tier two registration.

Your registration may be refused if any of the people you have included:

- are already included in another sponsor's registration, or
- have a current residence application under any other category under consideration by INZ at the time your registration is lodged, or
- are eligible for residence in New Zealand under any other category of residence instructions, or
- are unlawfully in New Zealand at the time your registration is lodged, or
- are currently claiming refugee or protection status in New Zealand.

You must have only one registration in the tier one or tier two queues at any time. If you lodge more than one registration, the second and subsequent registration forms will not be accepted.

Your registration will be returned to you if your registration is not accepted for any of the reasons above.
